

CHANGE LED STAR OF GAYETY SHOW TO STAGE CAREER

Ambition made Homer great. Mark Twain, by his own confession, started on his rise to fame because of his a week.

Miss Helen Vreeland, prima donna of the "Hip, Hip, Hooray Girls Company," at the Gayety Theater this week, began life on the stage in spite of the spur that quickened Homer's genius or the lure which attracted Twain to writing.

She confided today that her advent into burlesque two seasons ago was due to Chance. It happened this way: Into a certain downtown singing academy in New York dropped one night the managing director of a burlesque show which was being organized at a Gotham theater. He was a soured individual. The leading lady with whom he had closed a season's contract, but a week before had concluded to try matrimony instead of the stage.

Miss Vreeland was leading the chorus when he entered. So charmed was he by her voice that he sought an introduction. The talk that followed was short: "Will you sign for forty weeks over the Columbia Circuit as the prima donna of my show?"

Miss Vreeland: "Yes." A business talk next day and she was a member of the company in record time. This is Miss Vreeland's second season in burlesque.

The Gayety star had her first experience in singing in public while a member of a church choir. Compliments on her voice failed to inspire ambition for the stage and, but for the chance meeting in the singing academy, where she went to instruct amateur talent free of charge, she might never have reached a stage career.

The Gayety star may try vaudeville later, she admitted, but for the present she is well satisfied with the role of prima donna for the Beltrage show.

CITIZENS FAVOR MOTOR BUSES TO RELIEVE CAR JAM

Members of the Southeast Washington Citizens' Association are firmly of the belief today that a line of motor buses, operated by the Federal Government, will greatly assist in relieving street car congestion in Washington.

Resolutions to this effect were adopted at a meeting of the association last night and will be forwarded to the Public Utilities Commission. The members voted this as the most feasible means of relieving the traffic congestion after they had considered other plans submitted by various agencies.

The association went on record in favor of the Government ownership of the telephones in the District. Federal control of street cars was opposed by the citizens in the adoption of a special report on the question of Government ownership of public utilities. To quote the language of the report: "Federal control of the street car lines would deprive the Public Utilities Commission of its pastime in taking valuations and thus lose a prehistoric right."

A resolution avowing a federation of the citizens' associations in the southeast section of Washington, to be known as the "Southeast Alliance," was adopted. The object of the alliance would be to meet from time to time for the discussion of matters relating to the southeast section of the city.

CITIZENS WANT P. O. DEPARTMENT SHAKE-UP

Reorganization of the Postoffice Department to produce more efficiency in the delivery of mail is favored today by the North Capitol and Eckington Citizens' Association.

At a meeting last night the association went on record as favoring a general reorganization of the Postoffice Department. The resolutions adopted declared that Washington's mail service is growing worse day by day. Speakers declared that it is becoming a frequent occurrence for packages and other mail traveling a distance of 150 miles to be delayed for six or seven days.

A. J. Driscoll, of the District Council of Defense, addressed the members on "War Gardens."

PAINTINGS FEATURE CAPITAL.

Exploiting the natural and artistic beauties of this city and surroundings as her specialty in landscape painting, Marguerite P. Neuhauser has a number of canvases on exhibition at the Beaux Arts Club, 1115 H street, that are attracting attention.
